

Now entering our eleventh year, Forest of Imagination is taking over The Holburne Museum and Gardens, from 26 - 30 June 2024. This year's theme will highlight a vibrant 'Biodiversity Ring' through stories and creative interventions. Taking advantage of the diverse landscapes and habitats, Forest of Imagination's physical presence will reinforce the green setting of the Museum Gardens leading into Sydney Gardens and the wider city landscapes.

26-30 JUNE 2024 OPENING TIMES

OPENING NIGHT:

WEDNESDAY 26 JUNE, 6-8PM

10AM-5PM, FRI 10AM-5PM AND 6-8PM SATURDAY 10AM-5PM, SUNDAY 11AM-5PM

Created from multiple interventions, large and small. the Biodiversity Ring presents inspiring little steps to make it easier to address the climate and ecological emergencies.

of soundscapes, lights, and small interventions made by artists, school children, community groups, and visitors to the site. In addition, the circle will link a sequence of larger interventions that are more interactive such as the Climate Spa and the An-ki Theatre, Participants will contribute, share, visit, eat, and make ideas come to life.

And what if you were a slug? How discover an incredible world of super-resilient would you celebrate your only birthday? This is a chance to have a conversation with a family member or stranger about forest birthdays and your birthday! If you like birthday cake this is the place for you!

SOIL DREAMING

Soil, dirt, earth, mud. In the airless dark beneath our feet all manner of animals, plants, fungi and bacteria are making the stuff from which the forest recreates itself; glorious nourishing soil! In this session we will experience the many smells, sounds and textures of soil and explore together what it is and how it sustains so much life. We will imagine that people also grow from soil. I wonder, what kind of soil helps you to be creative like a happy forest?

KIDICAL MASS X FOREST OF IMAGINATION THE MOVING FOREST

A collaboration with Kidical Mass and Forest of Imagination. Cycling to Sydney Gardens from Bath City Football Club. Join the moving forest as we cycle through a forest of our collective imaginations. Each hike will be its own miniforest, coming together to form one large moving forest, so we can reimagine Bath as a safe, biodiverse cycling sanctuary.

MARTYN WARE. TIM WHEATER & CHERUB SANSON

Composed by Martyn Ware, Tim Wheater and Cherub Sanson and kindly supported by Monitor Audio Group, Immerse vourself in this hypnotic three-dimensional soundscape featuring an electronic compositional respons to the soundworld of naturally resonant acoustic instruments. The contrast between the natural and electronic worlds embodies paradoxically both a warning and a hope for a more considered technologically-enabled future and the inevitability of a new reality.

PAMELA FALKENBERG. JACK COCHRAN & LUCY ENGLISH CANCER ALLEY

Cancer Alley is a poetry film about environmental destruction in Louisiana's 'Cancer Alley', highlighting the need for corporate responsibility and raising public awareness of extreme pollution. The film showcases the experiences of residents in polluted areas and calls for action to protec nvironment. It addresses the urgency of changing our ways amidst increasing plastiproduction. The poetry, written by Lucy English, draws inspiration from local residents and indigenous leader Manari Ushigua Santi.

PETER VILK & ROXANA VILK

Create a live forest soundscape with unusua percussion instruments, found objects, and our imaginations. What does the forest reall sound like? What stories can we tell with these sounds? Bring a "forest related" object or ething you like the sound of for recording and playing with sonic textures. Using music technology and nature's objects, we will explore live sampling and looping to create unique soundscapes, available as an mp3 to share.

Sticky Ends is an energetic, funny and often surreal improv' show for family or school audiences that riffs off the form of cautionary tales. Its intention is to make an absolute mockery of the tradition of heavy moralising that features so much in children's theatre.
